Has God Given Up On Israel?

Powerful book reveals God's heart for Israel—and the Church's urgent role as Israel faces threats on every side

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. – COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. – As Israel faces unprecedented threats from every direction—military, political, spiritual, and cultural—many Christians are asking crucial questions: Has God given up on Israel? Has the Church replaced her? Why should believers care about Israel at all?

Veteran author Gaylyn Williams addresses these questions head-on in her book and training, Explore God's Heart for Israel. Drawing from Scripture, her work takes readers on a compelling biblical journey to discover God's unchanging passion for Israel and how Christians can actively partner with Him as His end-time plan unfolds.

"Many people want to support Israel, but they don't fully understand why Israel matters biblically," says Williams. "Some even wonder if God abandoned Israel and chose the Church instead. Scripture gives a very clear answer."

Williams lives part-time in Israel and serves the Messianic community through her ministry. Her book and training equip believers to understand what is happening from a biblical perspective, how to recognize anti-Semitism (even within the Church), and how to respond with clarity, prayer, and action. She helps Christians move from confusion to conviction—and from sympathy to partnership.

Endorsements from respected ministry leaders:

Chaim Malespin, Director of Aliyah Return Center and IDF soldier, said, "I highly recommend this book to anyone who loves the Bible and desires deeper revelation."

Deborah Kellogg, Founder and Director of Cyrus Foundation, said, "Explore God's Heart for Israel is timely and significant as we are invited into one of the greatest movements of God in history. We need to raise up an army of ambassadors to share it with every believer."
